

There are Two (2) main train stations in Milan and since one (Cadorna) is within the old city walls near the Castle it is commonly referred to as the central station (Not What you want). There are shuttles to and from the airport to both. You want to go to "Central F.S. Stazione Centrale", not the "Cadorna FNM-Trennale". The Central F.S. has shuttles available to and from both Milan airports - Linate or Malpensa, as well as trains available to other Italian and European cities and it is a stop on Europe's high speed rail. Once you arrive at the Central F.S. Stazione Centrale it will be easiest to simply walk the 50 meters to the Hotel Florida. It is really that close.

At the end of our tour the Hotel New York will be just as easy to depart from. The same station you arrive at will be in view when you exit the hotel.
